Clerk Hook was not kept very busy yesterday. He admitted one deed of trust to record, and issued a marriage license to Herman Reinhardt, aged 31, a widower, born in Germany and now a resident of Wheeling, and Matilda Druschel, aged 19, a native and resident of Wheeling.

Retail Merchants.

The Ohio county branch of the Merchants' Retail Commercial Agency held a very interesting meeting in their hall last evening. The members are united in their testimony, that as the agency grows in age, it increases in efficiency, both in making collections and in protection against "dead beats." The report of collections made during the last month amounted to almost $400, the larger part of this amount was of long standing. The branch is growing very rapidly.

The Maier Murder Case.

The record in the Maier wife murder case has at last been perfected and certified, and was yesterday turned over to Maier's attorneys. On Thursday Mr. Coniff will go down the river to present a petition for an appeal to Judge English. There being one or two points not yet adjudicated in West Virginia raised in the case, Mr. Coniff will present the matter in person. The outcome will be watched with interest, but it is already morally certain that if Maier is hanged it will be at a considerably later date than August 5, the day named in his sentence.

Death of a Well Known Farmer.

Robert Birkett, an old and respected farmer, living near Elm Grove, died yesterday morning of heart trouble. His son, with whom he lived, heard him going down stairs at 4 o'clock. When the son went down at 5 o'clock he found his father lying dead in the yard. Mr. Birkett came from England thirty years ago, and located in Ohio county. He went to England on a visit in May, and just returned two weeks ago, having taken sick while there. He leaves three daughters and two sons to mourn his loss, his wife having died some time ago.

Yesterday's Police Court.

In the police court yesterday McClary and Wilson, the two men arrested by Officer Buch for insulting women on Main street the night before, were fined $5 and costs each, and not having the cash, were sent to the jail for thirty days. William Smith, a plain drunk, went up for fifteen days in default of $1 and costs. Henry Zercher, the boy who accidentally broke one of the large plate glass windows in the Hawley block was fined $3 and costs, but the fine was suspended. Charles Hill, arrested on complaint of Annie Ritz for selling drinks on Sunday, was dismissed, the prosecution being regarded as the outgrowth of malice.

Arrests Yesterday.

Yesterday Officer West arrested Louis Bothwell, who said he was a naller. He is charged with making indecent exposures in presence of little girls, and he admitted that he was the man of whose conduct of that character complaints have been received by the officers for some time past.

Robert Spencer, colored, was arrested by Officers Lukins and West for being drunk and carrying concealed weapons. He was entering houses in the Second ward, and annoying and frightening people. He had a revolver in his pocket. When arrested he fought like a tiger, and kept up his resistance all the way to the lockup.

Slight Collision Yesterday.

There was a slight wreck at the west end of the B. & O. yards at Bellaire yesterday morning. The vestibuled passenger train from the west was just rounding the curve into the yards when a freight engine with a train of twenty-nine cars was going down the grade on the west end of the bridge over the river. It was impossible for the freight to stop, and as the passenger was coming slow the engine was reversed and backing when the freight reached it. The engines were not hurt much, nor were the passengers or train, but several freight cars were badly broken and two were turned over the bank out of the way. If there is such a thing as a fortunate accident this was one.

Opposed to Home Industries.

Mr. J. W. Hunter, of the Anchor spice mills, called at the INTELLIGENCER office yesterday and said that the Baltimore and Ohio Company was not the object of the Swift Beef Company's enmity to the proposed railroad switches to be laid to the new buildings to be erected for the spice mills and the U. S. Baking Company.

"The beef company," said Mr. Hunter, "is a foreign corporation. Its opposition is not directed against the Baltimore & Ohio Company, but against home capital. The switch that is to be laid to the building to be erected for our firm will not interfere with the beef company in the least. Its object in bringing the Baltimore & Ohio into the controversy is to utilize whatever feeling may exist against that corporation in order to prevent the switches being laid, though home industries alone are interested in them."

THE POLANDERS DISCHARGED.

David Naylor's Murder So Shrouded in Mystery That It "Must Await the Judgment Day" to Be Explained.

The trial of the nine Polanders before Judge Tallman, at St. Clairsville, was completed at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after a two days' hearing. About forty witnesses were examined by Prosecuting Attorney Jesse Hollingsworth, and no stone left unturned to convict. The prosecution was conducted in an able and thorough manner. When the prosecution had examined its last witness and rested its case, L. S. Jordan, of Wheeling, who was the lawyer for the defense, made an eloquent appeal to the court for the release of the prisoners, claiming that sufficient testimony had not been produced to justify holding them.

Prosecuting Attorney Hollingsworth followed in a strong and logical speech, taking the ground that a murder had been committed; that David Naylor had been killed and laid on the railroad track by his murderers to hide their bloody work, and having proven that he had been in a fight at 6 o'clock on the evening of his murder with the prisoners, who fled on Sunday morning at the approach of the officers, and were chased and arrested. A strong appeal was made to the court to hold the prisoners.

At the conclusion of Mr. Hollingsworth's speech, Judge Tallman said he felt that a crime had been committed, a crime clouded in such mystery that it awaited the judgment day to reveal, but that sufficient evidence had not been produced to justify him in holding the prisoners, and he therefore ordered the sheriff to discharge them.

When the decision was interpreted to the Poles they excitedly arose and walked out of the court room and to the train, which was due to leave in a few minutes. When the train stopped at Wheeling Creek the most of the population was out to meet the released men.

Funeral of Mrs. Blum.

The funeral of Mrs. Christian Blum took place yesterday morning at half past nine o'clock from St. Joseph's cathedral. Requiem high mass was sung by Mr. Sullivan. Numerous exquisite floral offerings were given by friends of the deceased. The choir was led by Mrs. Whitaker, who sang at the conclusion of the service, "Nearer my God to Thee." The burial was at Mt. Calvary cemetery. The pall bearers were Messrs. George J. Mathison, S. Alexander, A. G. Hadlich, John J. Sheekey, A. F. Stauffer and A. J. McGarrell.

The following, clipped from the Burlington Junction (Mo.) Post, contains information of no little value to persons troubled with indigestion:

For years the editor of the Post has been subject to cramp colic or fits of indigestion, that prostrated him for several hours and unfitted him for business for two or three days afterward. About a year ago we called on S. J. Butcher, druggist, and asked for something to ward off an attack that was already making life hideous. Mr. Butcher handed us a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. We took the medicine according to directions, and not only found relief on that occasion, but have several times since tried its virtues and found relief in every instance. We take this method of acknowledging the benefits derived and recommending the cure to all others subject to indigestion. For sale by druggists. DAW
